CHARLES-TOWN: Printed by T. POWELL & Co. at the Printing-Office near the EXCHANGE.

TWIST & Co. to T. POWELL & Co.
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

IT having been, Time out of Mind, the particular Occupation of our Company, to write Letters bearing our Signature, without any other Intention than to interrupt the Tranquility of private Families: We cannot see your GAZETTE used as a Vehicle of Words, from your Correspondents, which have no other Tendency than to load private Characters with public Abuse, without being induced to demand from you, as a Right, the Publication of our Letters, written with a similar Intention.——Heretofore, we have been content to drop our Letters privately in the Street, or slily to thrust them under a Door, to throw them into a Window, or over a Wall. Our Wit was of Consequence frequently lost in the Conveyance, and our Purpose thereby disappointed but too often. Your Gazette at length furnishes the most certain Means of reaching those Persons, whose Tranquility is destined to be wounded. Thanks to your patriotic Regard for the unbounded Liberty of the Press, which is most absolutely demonstrated when you allow your Gazette to teem with the grossest Abuse.—— Therefore, whenever we shall see any Advertisement, Publication by Subscription, Article of News, Epitaph, Long-Metre Rhapsody, or any such Attempts at Wit, which make personal Abuse the only Object; we shall always in your next Gazette, furnish something with a similar Intention: And we will contribute to add to the fashionable Entertainment, by producing some curious Anecdotes of Personages, who consider themselves as of the Bon-Ton in this Society.

We have already laid in Materials for a Twelve month's Consumption at least: And, as we purpose to procure timely Supplies, we shall not be in Danger of out-running our Stock upon Hand.—Among a great Variety of entertaining Articles, are the following Particulars.

A GENEALOGICAL TABLE,
Shewing the illustrious Descents of our principal Families.

A TREATISE upon OCCUPATIONS,
Shewing by what Means Overseers became Employers, though they could not become Gentlemen. How indented Servants became Masters; and how Mushrooms grew from Dunghills.

The PRUDENT MAN'S GUIDE:
Being an accurate Table, by which, at one Glance, may be seen, who is in Danger of Bankruptcy; such Mortgages and Debts as hang upon any Man's Estate like Mill-stones about the Neck, and such Bills of Exchange as Prudence might decline to meddle with.

A choice Collection of private LIVES:
Containing not only Circumstances of Fraud, Cruelty, Usury and Injustice, but of Intrigues and Amours; with Remarks upon the Taste of the Parties, and their Address in the Management of these Amusements.

Some MYSTERIES in TRADE developed.
By TRAFFICK & Co.

The Oppressive PRACTICE of the LAW,
And the best Method to squeeze a CLIENT,
By —— DOUBLE-F——, Esq;
A sure Way to become Speaker of the Commons House.
Dedicated to —— ——, Esq. By a Barrister at Law.

JOBSON and NELL. A Pastoral Dialogue.

The ART of growing YOUNG. A Farce.
By —— ——, Esq.

In short, Messrs. les Imprimeurs, as long as your Gazette, in Support of the Liberty of the Press, shall continue to give Vent to Abuse, so long, we purpose, without Mercy, to hack and to slash; nay, we will vie with any of your Correspondents, in shewing our Regard for the sacred Liberty of the Press, by using it in the highest Stile of Freedom; for, we will even fritter all Family Connections, Reputations, and Situations in Life, in such Fashion, as shall accord with our Will and Pleasure, toute qu'il coutes——We will mark the Objects of our Ridicule in such legible Characters, that the Public shall readily give the proper Names to such Objects of our Contempt. Our principal Intention being, to destroy, as much as in us lies, by the Help of your Gazette, the Peace of private Families.—A most delicious Amusement! For the full Enjoyment of which, the Press under your Direction, affords irresistable Invitations.

In our next Letter, we shall give an Account, in what Manner a certain large black Stumbling-Block, was accustomed to stop a certain Gentleman, in his Passage from one Chamber to another, and by what Operation upon the Spot, he was disqualified from advancing upon his intended Expedition, to perform a necessary and expected Duty: And, with a View to be sufficiently entertaining in one Letter, we shall relate two other Anecdotes of a very curious Nature. You may be assured, that our Endeavours to amuse, shall by no Means flag; for, we consider those of your Correspondents, who have lately presumed to act in the Sphere of Defamation, by the Channel of your Gazette, as Rivals to our Abilities in that Science. By such a Conduct they oblige us to exert ourselves in our own Defence. Therefore,

If to throw Dirt, is all the Matter,
We'll try who, can the most bespatter.

ANDREW RUTLEDGE
HAS OPENED HIS
DANCING SCHOOL
For the ensuing SEASON,

AND will teach by the Quarter or Month, as may be most agreeable to his Pupils. He will engage to perfect grown Ladies and Gentlemen in the above Time for Dancing in public Company, provided they give regular Attendance at their appointed Hours, and may be instructed either in private or at his public School.—He most gratefully acknowledges the many Favours conferred on him by the Inhabitants of this Province for Thirteen Years past, and hopes to merit a Continuance of them for the future Part of his Days, which he proposes to devote amongst them.

SOUTH-CAROLINA, ORANGEBURGH District.

In the Court of General Sessions, Oyer and Terminer, Assize and General Gaol-Delivery, for ORANGEBURGH District, NOVEMBER Session, 1772.

IT IS ORDERED,

THAT the PRESENTMENTS of the GRAND JURORS, at this Court, be published in all the Gazettes of this Province. By the Court,

John Colcock, C. C. & P.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.
The PRESENTMENTS
OF THE
GRAND JURORS, at a Court of General Gaol-Delivery, begun and holden for the District of ORANGEBURGH, on the fifth Day of NOVEMBER, 1772, before the Hon. EDWARD SAVAGE, Assistant Judge.

I. THE present, as a GRIEVANCE that the Town of ORANGEBURGH lieth under, by being deprived of the Privilege of the Public Commons, and the Use of the Streets being artfully become the private Property of Col. William Thomson, Col. Christopher Rowe, and William Mitchel: upon the Information of Gavin Pou, Esq; John Fisher, and sundry of the now Grand Jurors.

II. We present, as a GRIEVANCE, the Hardship that an Inhabitant of the Town of ORANGEBURGH lieth under, by having a Fine of Five Pounds, laid upon him by Christopher Rowe, Esq; an acting Magistrate, for Damage said to be done to James Ducit, for drawing his Timber to build a House in the Town, along the public Street, for this Thirty Years last past, in the aforesaid Town; on the Information of Henry Felder.

III. We present, as a DETRIMENT, to the Public, that the Gaol in ORANGEBURGH, being made a public Tavern and Store, to retail Dry Goods, contrary to the good Intent and Meaning of building the said Gaol, and rescuing the Prisoners therein confined.

IV. We present, the COMMISSIONERS for building the Court-House and Gaol in ORANGEBURGH District, viz. William Thomson, Esq; Christopher Rowe, John Fisher, John Mitchel, John Caldwell, William Young, and David Rumph, for the Insufficiency of the Rooms of Confinement in the said Gaol, not being built agreeable to the Intent of the Act of Assembly, for that Purpose appointed, for Want of being lined with Two-Inch Plank, and well spiked, whereby the King's Prisoners have it greatly in their Power to make their Escape, to prevent being brought to Justice; on Complaint of Edmund Coussins, Sub-Sheriff, and a Review made by the present Grand Jurors.

V. We present, as a great GRIEVANCE, the many small Tippling-Houses, along the public Roads, who often under that frivilous Pretence, neglect making necessary Provisions to support their Family, for Want of which they often deal clandestinely with Slaves, and the Fault often lies with the Magistrates, for granting Certificates unto so many, and those that are not able to support a House of Entertainment for Travellers.

VI. We present, Martin Beclare, in St. Matthew's Parish, for keeping a disorderly House; frequently having Noise and Drunkenness in his House; and have Reason to believe his dealing clandestinely with Slaves; on the Information of Thomas Sabb, sen. William Heatly, sen. and John Caldwell.

We recommend that the foregoing PRESENTMENTS be published in all the Gazettes.

October 2, 1772. GEORGE FLAGG

THE other Day you publiſhed a Paper, ſigned VERIDICUS, in which the infamous Practice of Foreſtalling the Proviſions that are ſent from the Country to our Market, is ſet in a ſtrong, and no leſs juſt Light:—Of this both white and black People are guilty; nay, even Slaves undertake the ſame oppreſſive Meaſures, to which I myſelf was a Witneſs the other Day.

A Planter having brought ſome Hogs to the Market Wharf, was aſked how he ſold them by the Quarter. He anſwered, no Price, though many Buyers ſtood round him.—Immediately a Negro Man, named LEANDER, came up; when the Shotes were put into his Hands, and this Negro inſolently demanded Thirty-two Shillings and Six-pence for ſuch a Quarter of Pork, as a few Years ago might have been bought for Fifteen Shillings, or Seventeen Shillings and Six-pence.—Hence it plainly appears, as your Correſpondent obſerved, that we are at the Mercy, even of the loweſt and moſt abandoned Scoundrels, who diſpoſe not only of our Fortunes, but our Lives, according to their own inſatiable Thirſt for Gain:—And this is permitted, in Contempt of Government, which ought to exert itſelf, for the Protection of the diſtreſſed Inhabitants of Charles-Town, that are become a Prey to the loweſt Claſs of Miſcreants, who have made themſelves of ſome little Conſequence (at leaſt in their own Conceit) by ſuch evil Practices, as, in ſome Countries, would entitle them to the Bowſtring, in order to put an End to their Villainies; for ſurely, a more deteſtable Character exiſts not on Earth, than that of a Monopolizer of, or an Extortioner on, the Neceſſaries of Life. BENEVOLUS.

Charles-Town, November 20th, 1772.

RICHARD MORGAN,

SHOE-MAKER,

Who lately arrived here from LONDON,

Begs Leave to acquaint the Gentlemen, and Public in general.

THAT he has taken a Houſe in King-ſtreet, formerly called the Old-Goal, where he carries on the Shoe-making Buſineſs in all its Branches; Stitch-Work of all Sorts, ſuch as is now performed in London, after the neweſt Taſte and Faſhion, and in the neateſt Manner: He likewiſe informs the Public, that he was accounted the beſt Workman in the City aforeſaid; this he doth not ſay through Oſtentation.—His Work he hopes will be a plain Proof of the Truth hereof. He flatters himſelf that his Conduct, Aſſiduity and Diligence, will give general Satisfaction to all who may be pleaſed to employ him.——All Orders ſhall be punctually obeyed with the utmoſt Expedition.

N. B. Said MORGAN, would be glad of two Apprentices, and will give the beſt Wages to Journeyman who are capable to work well; none other need apply.

To be SOLD,

On TUESDAY the 22d Day of DECEMBER next,

At the VENDUE-HOUSE in CHARLES-TOWN,

A TRACT of Land on the Waters of the Four-Holes, containing Three Hundred and Fifty Acres, ſurveyed in 1767, adjoining the Land of Frederick Frolick, and near Mr. Heſt's Part of ſaid Land; is good Rice Land, and within a Quarter of a Mile of the Road, which makes it convenient for a Store or Tavern. For further Particulars, apply to Meſſrs. Oates and Ruſſel.

STRAYED or STOLEN,

Some Time ago, from off CHARLES-TOWN GREEN,

A bright bay HORSE,

Near fourteen Hands high, with a blaze in his Forehead, and ſeveral Saddle Spots on his Back, ſome white on both his hind Feet, and has a black Streak from his Mane to his Tail, has a very remarkable Way of throwing his off fore Foot out; and branded on the mounting Shoulder either NO or DO.——Whoever will deliver the ſaid HORSE to the Subſcriber, ſhall have FIVE DOLLARS Reward.

THOMAS JERVEY.

CHARLES-TOWN, Nov[illegible].

ACCORDING to the laſt Advices from London, by Captain Baker, which are not later than the 18th of September.—The Conferences between the Ruſſian and Turkiſh Plenipotentiaries at Fockzany, were likely to terminate in ſigning Preliminaries, for a Peace between thoſe two Powers.——The Revolution in Sweden appears to be ſettled, and the People ſo infatuated, as to rejoice in the Deprivation of their Liberties.——The Partition of Poland ſeems to be deferred till the Turks and Ruſſians ſhall have made up Matters. And it is not improbable, that a Rupture will take Place between Sweden and Denmark.——In England, the Current of of Bankruptcies ſeems to have ſtopt, and Mr. Fordyce had ſurrendered himſelf.——It was thought the Parliament would not meet till the Middle of January. And political Contentions had much abated.

Writs are now iſſued for electing new Repreſentatives, on Tueſday and Wedneſday the 15th and 16th of December next. They bear Teſte the 20th Inſtant, and are made returnable at Charles-Town, on Friday the firſt of January next.

His Excellency the Governor has ordered Fort Lyttelton, at Beaufort, to be repaired; and appointed Andrew Aggnew, James Cuſack, Eſqrs. and Capt. John Joiner, Commiſſioners for that Purpoſe.

Captain Chadwick's Veſſel, which arrived here laſt Friday, from New-York, with a Number of Iſraelites and other Paſſengers, three Days before it came in, had its Cutwater beat aide, and Stem ſplit, by a Whale.

On Sunday laſt returned from Virginia, Mrs. Haly, the Wife of Doctor John Haly, with her younger Brother.

The ſame Day Mr. Hopſon Pinckney, was married to Miſs Elizabeth Quaſh, Daughter of the late Robert Quaſh, Eſq.

Monday being St. Cecilia's Day, the ſame was celebrated by the St. Cecilia Society, at Mr. Pike's Suite of Rooms.

Yeſterday arrived in the Sloop Charles-Town, Capt. Munro, from Rhode-Iſland, Captain James Keith, of Newport, Lieut. Everitt, for his Majeſty's Ship Gibraltar, Mr. John Duncan, for the Diſtillery at Romney, Mr. Robert Swainſton, Mrs. Hayne, Mr. Morton Wilkinſon, Mr. Branford, Miſs Hart, and others, of this Province.

A few Days ſince, Mr. Alexander Chovin was married to Miſs Polly Tart, Daughter of Mr. Nathan Tart, and not to Miſs Mary Seller, as mentioned in The GENERAL GAZETTE.

The Courts at Orangeburg were opened the 5th Inſtant, and ended the 11th.—Only five Bills were delivered out to the Grand Jury, two of which were returned True Bills. John Jones was convicted on one of them, of Petit-Larceny, and ſentenced to receive ten Laſhes at the Goal-Door on the 18th: Thomas Reeves, jun. indicted for killing Cattle, was not tried.—There was no Buſineſs in the Commons-Pleas.—The Gentlemen that went from Town, were received by the Militia under Arms, and treated with great Civility.

The BEER now brewed by Mr. Edmund Egan in this Town, is ſaid, by good Judges, to be ſuperior to moſt that is uſually imported from the Northern Colonies—and that there may be no Want of it, a large Quantity of excellent Malt is juſt arrived, from Rhode-Iſland, for his Uſe.

CONCERT.

By DESIRE.

TO-MORROW the 27th of November, Inſtant,

At PIKE's NEW ASSEMBLY-ROOM,

WILL BE PERFORMED,

A CONCERT

OF

VOCAL and INSTUMENTAL MUSIC.

The VOCAL Part by a Gentleman, who does it merely to oblige on this Occaſion.

THE whole Sum that may be raiſed on this Occaſion, to be laid out for a covered WAY and elegant PORTICO next the Street; thereby to enable Ladies and Gentlemen always to go to the New Suite of Rooms without being incommoded by the Weather.

N. B. As the Expence to complete the ſame amounts to a conſiderable Sum, it is hoped the Ladies and Gentlemen will not think A GUINEA for TWO TICKETS an extravagant Demand.

 To begin preciſely at Half paſt SIX o'Clock.

Mr. POWELL,

IN July last I gave Notice in your Gazette, that it would not ſuit me to GARBEL or SEAL INDICO for Exportation, but for the Gentlemen whoſe Names were then inſerted, at Two Dollars per Hundred Weight—which Reſolution I ſtill perſevere in; though I am afraid, I ſhall be under the diſagreeable Neceſſity to tell them this Crop as I did the laſt, That neither the Quality or Price would induce me to expoſe a Character which had coſt me near Forty Years Labour, attended with a great Expence, to eſtabliſh on a good Footing; for an Error in Judgment in me, is certainly a Crime—when, in another, of leſs Experience, it would only be deemed an Overſight. However, when I find Indico brought to Market in a merchantable Condition, I will ſo far act the generous Part, to encourage the Gentlemen in my Liſt to become conſiderable Purchaſers, as not to take a Copper from the Planters for inſpecting their Indico, provided any of the under-mentioned Gentlemen are the Purchaſers:—If they are not, I ſhall charge Five Pounds Currency for every Hundred Weight, after it is tared and weighed, with a Certificate of its Quality, and the proper Allowances for Damp and Mixtures:—Neither do I intend this Favour to them till the Middle of January—for if by that Time they can fill their Indico without my Certificate, they naturally will not apply to me. As to the Price each Quality may obtain, it is to me of little Importance.—My Buſineſs, as Inſpector-General, when called upon, is to prevent Impoſitions either by the Seller or Purchaſer.—Had ſome Shippers of Indico laſt Crop taken the ſame Precaution, and not have truſted ſo much to their own Judgment, it would all have been ſold in England by the Letters of the 7th of September; whereas near Two-Thirds remained without Purchaſers—and when the October Packet arrives, the Purchaſers here of this Crop, will be able to judge what Price they can afford for prime Indico, and in Proportion for inferior.

MOSES LINDO,
Inſpector-General of Indico.

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subſcriber is much obliged to his planting Friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf for three Years paſt, have already introduced it to Buſineſs.—He acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being Sufferers by their intended Kindneſs to him, as it was very induſtriouſly inſinuated, that Rice would not ſell at his Wharf: But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himſelf all his Friends are fully ſo too, that their Crops, landed in large or ſmall Parcels, will ſell together as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentlemen, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and ſell Rice or Indico landed at more than one Wharf, chooſes to decline that Buſineſs, finding Friends will ſtill land their Crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he ſhall take Care HIMSELF that their Boats have all poſſible Diſpatch.

As to the Safety and Conveniency of his Docks and Stores, he is ſure there are none preferable to them in Town in thoſe Reſpects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more ſecure from Fire; and it is almoſt impoſſible for a Barrel of Rice to be ſtolen in landing or ſhipping at his Wharf. Such Gentlemen as uſe his Wharf conſtantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Price:—No prudent Planter but muſt be convinced, that this is a Matter of the utmoſt Conſequence to him, as many, for theſe three Years paſt, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) diſpoſed of very much againſt their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is ſure has been the Caſe, particularly this Year ſeveral Times, notwithſtanding the Shortneſs of the Crop.

Meſſrs. GIBBES & HORT,

Who have had long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, and confine themſelves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will tranſact their Buſineſs on his Wharf.—To theſe Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend ſuch of his Friends who are not otherwiſe engaged.

Chriſtopher Gadſden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depend on not wanting STORAGE for ſuch Parcels of Rice as they purchaſe at his Wharf.

GIBBES & HORT,
ACQUAINT THEIR FRIENDS,
THAT THEY CONTINUE THE
Factorage Buſineſs in all its Branches,
(ON THE USUAL TERMS)

AND, for the Convenience of good Storage, will tranſact it on Captain GADSDEN's WHARF; where they deſire ſuch of their Friends, as it may be agreeable to, will order the Goods they intend to favour them with, being convinced, that they will ſell as well there, as at any other Place in CHARLES-TOWN.——Conſtant Attendance will alſo be given at their other Compting-Houſe on the BAY.

Their Friends will be ſupplied with proper Boats agreeable to their Orders: And they hope to merit a Continuance of their Favours, by a ſteady Attention to their Employers Intereſt, eſpecially as they are determined to confine themſelves to the Factorage Buſineſs only.—And they aſſure their Friends, that they are not in any Wiſe intereſted in Captain GADSDEN's Stores; ſo that whenever they ſhall think it neceſſary to ſtore for a better Market, it muſt be SOLELY with a View to their Friends Intereſt.

N. B. WANTED, to attend on the ſaid Wharf, a Perſon well qualified and recommended.

THE Creditors of the Eſtate of RICHARD BERESFORD, Eſq; deceaſed, are deſired to ſend in ſtated Accounts:—And thoſe indebted, to make Payment to ALEXANDER GILLON.

The SALE by AUCTION. A Dream.

I wake, emerging from a sea of dreams. YOUNG.

—— Ridentem dicere verum
Quid vetat? HOR.

I STILL retain my old custom of reading in bed. I wished to sleep, and I took up the last new poem*—It soon had the desired effect. It operated upon me like opium. I felt my soul grow torpid, my spirits sunk, my nerves were overpowered, and my eyelids closed. Such are the effects of dullness!

Philosophers tell us, that when we sleep, the empire of the soul commences; that she retains the ideas which had arisen in the day-time, and, flying with them, when unclogged by the gross body, into the fields of imagination, there fashions them into scenes of wonderful variety, and raises a new creation to the view. It was so with me. This man of Grub-street had been talking, in his poem, of statesmen and courtiers. My fancy retained the ideas; and, carrying them into the fields of mental creation, produced a DREAM.

It was in those immense regions between the earth and the sun. A black cloud rolled over the face of heaven. Suddenly the thunder roared; the lightning glided in dreadful flashes; and old Ocean reeled, and swelled his green surges to heaven.—But soon the tempest ceased. A cloud opened, and beamed on the world inexpressible splendor. My entranced soul was lost in rapture. Delicious odours breathed all around, and immortal strains warbled throughout the fields of air.

In the center of the cloud a majestic being sat enthroned. I knew him by the rose and thistle, the lion, and the crest of freedom, by his open countenance, and sea-green hair.—It was the Genius of Britain. Around him rose many manly figures: I knew them by their majestic port, their unbridled features, their keen and daring eye: they were the heroes, the statesmen, the patriots of our isle. I gazed upon them with awe, and my soul laboured with unusual motions.

While my eye was wandering over the splendid scene which was before it, I observed one figure raise itself above the rest. The face was homely, the eye was fixed, the hair hung lank and unadorned upon his broad shoulders, and a wonderful simplicity was spread over the whole person. Looking towards the genius, he waved his hand; and I had just recollected the features of old Marvell, the patriot of Hull, when he spoke the following words:

"Genius of freedom, guardian of my native isle! may the grief which swells my heart touch thine with sympathy and add pity! Do you not see that the favoured land which you love, which we love, which heaven loves, is struggling with the evil genius of the age? Do you not see that those privileges and laws, for which your children have thundered in the senate, or bled in the field, are expiring by the hands, which ought to protect them? That fabric, the admired labour of so many centuries, begins to totter. I see it tremble, and it will soon tremble to the center. They have tarnished its beauty, they have overturned its battlements, and they have humbled its pride. May these betrayers of freedom, oh Genius! be punished for their crimes! May their days be chearless, and their nights without sleep! May their pillows be lined with thorns, and moistened with tears! May anguish pursue them, and may the keen curses of conscience rouse them into repentance! Decree, O Genius, and let them be punished. Let the sacrificers be sacrificed; and let the men who have been so often SOLD for the ruin of their country, be now SOLD for its safety.

He said, and the Genius gave a nod of approbation. The audience burst into a roar of applause; the plaudits went round, the sky re-echoed, and the whole assembly rung with, Let them be SOLD! Let them be SOLD!

The flights of fancy are rapid. Methought I glided down the sky like a sunbeam, and found myself in Pall-mall. A fat citizen was hopping across the kennel, and following a crowd. I seized him by the sleeve, and asked him where he and the crowd were going? "Come along (says he) to Christie's—the ministry are to be sold." Bless me! (answered I) what a sudden revolution! It was but yesterday they shone in meredian splendor: it was but yesterday they trampled upon England, and set her laws and patriots at defiance. "Ay, very like, very like—(replied the inhabitant of the city) but WE have altered all that—WE have thrown St. James's into confusion—all the outs are in, and all the ins are out."—And now (added I) that political furniture of the cabinet, the ministry, being of no longer use there, is to be sold off by auction, like all other useless lumber, to the highest bidder. "Right—right," rejoined the cit, and strode away towards the auction room.

Now I, who was more in the secret, could not avoid making a moral reflection on this occasion.—Here, said I, is a great revolution, and an honest citizen firmly believes it was affected by himself and the Bill of Rights.—Blind to the hand of Providence, (added I) little do they think that the whole has been brought about by the prayer of honest Marvell in the clouds.

I now entered the auction-room, and CHRISTIE had just mounted the rostrum.—He seized his hammer, and throwing his eyes round the room with that activity and bewitching ease peculiar to great men, called for the first Lot, and began.

AUCTIONEER. Hand it up there—hum—the first lot, gentlemen, carries its own weight with it; it is an ass's head—that is to say, the head of an ass—or of a minister. For various reasons have we chosen to give these terms as synonimous, and to make the one represent the other. Our minister has long acted like an ass, and he has got his reward; for like an ass they have used him.—Is an ass endued with great gravity?—So is the minister. Hence that deep, important, plodding air—those stiff unbending features—that solemn, soporific, mystic countenance, which mark him with eternal business.—Hence it is, that you see him prodigiously thoughtful, and prodigiously forgetful; now musing with his arms a-kembo, and now making calculations with his fore-finger upon his nose; now measuring his paces like a city militiaman, or like the man in black before a funeral, slow and stately, one, two, three—and now galloping, like the fiery Phæton, from the court to the Cockpit—and from the Cockpit to the court. Is the ass obstinate? So is the minister, for he is always willing to have his own way. Hence it is, that our ships are rigged one week, and unrigged the next—that our stocks are rising to day, and falling to-morrow—that our couriers are eternally on the wing to Versailles, and that the dispatches of to-day flatly contradict the dispatches of yesterday.—Did our ass ever prophesy? Yes, Balaam's did.—Our minister will match him there too, for he too has prophesied. But his prophesies are as brittle as his promises; for his ten years peace begins to expire already. Is the ass patient? So is the minister. How else could he support his burdens, and hold his post, so long?—In the mean time somebody put him in.—O he is a very state Grizel, and outdoes Job and the evangelists for humility and long-suffering. How has he been torn and worried by the hawks of power and the dogs of office—now buffeted by the Bloomsbury gang, and now pelted by the Junto—the companion of clerks, the slave of slaves, and the butt of Scotsmen and favourites!—But do you think that he ever murmured? No, never. He gulped every thing. Like a true Christian he did to them as he did to the Spaniards—when they smote him upon the cheek, he turned unto them the other also.—Who'll bid for him?—You must not be surprised that he hangs his ears so much, for stocks are greatly fallen of late.—And yet, for an ass, he's a smooth, well-comb'd creature.—But then he's a court-ass, and must wear the fashion there.——Who bids? "Eighteen-pence for him.—Well said, Mr. Goodluck.—He was always fond of speculation, scheming, and financing, and will do well for a lottery-office. Once, twice, eighteen-pence for him—Nobody more than eighteen-pence?—Thrice.—He's yours, Mr. Goodluck, and a cheap bargain he is. A prime minister for eighteen-pence!—Bless me! you might at least have given one of his own lottery tickets for him.

Lot 2, was now called for. He was a Newmarket academician, and was handed up to the actioneer in his proper dress.

AUCTIONEER. There, gellmen, is one of the race of Nimrod for you—a duke, a gambler, a privy-counsellor, and a skeleton!—Well, who bids for this equestrian figure? or rather, who betts for him? for he is a complete Newmarket-boy. He winks, and nods, and whispers, and starts, and deals about "Done" and "Damme" with such volubility, that his tongue seems fleeter than the fleet Bay Malton. O he's a deep whip and spur man—one of the mystical black-legs, and a member of the august Jockey-club. For shame, Sirs! say something for him. Though his figure, like one of his own race-horse, is long and slender, we can warrant him sound in some of his limbs, and tolerably sure in his paces: his greatest fault is, that he is sometimes very foolish; but you need not be surprised at that, as there is some royal blood in his veins.—"Five guineas for him."—Well said, Lady Bab! But he is too much debilitated to be a good cicisbeo: the Irish, the Irish for that. Look at his forlorn appearance, and you'd swear the crows had been lately picking him.—And so they were—but they were the fair crows of Covent-Garden. Many a warm evening has he stood the hot fires of the bagnio—many a bleak night has he run the round of riot and midnight frolicks—now pelted by watchmen and constables, and now pelting them—now hunted from Prince-street to King-street, from Drury to Longacre, and now romping with whores, or fondling with demi reps.—O he has been a fellow of hard service, and his bones bespeak it. Where are the venerable members of the Jockey-club? He is deeply skilled in the science of jostling, and would make a good rider of matches.—"Fifteen guineas for him!"—Excellent, my lords! a true bett! Fifteen guineas for a duke and a jockey.—Nobody more than fifteen guineas?—Ladies and lords, he'll fit either of you—he'll do for the turf or the bedchamber, for he's a good judge of flesh—whether it be horse-flesh or woman's flesh. Once, twice, fifteen guineas.—No more than fifteen?—Thrice.—The Jockey club have got him to ride their matches.—He's ripe for use, my lords; for he is sweated down for the course, and as lean as a Scotch oyster.

My lord duke was handed down to the grooms, and Lot 3. was called for; and the moment he made his appearance, the room resounded with tittering and horse laughs

AUCTIONEER. You may well laugh, ladies and gellmen, for here comes the miraculous Bradshaw himself, alias Cream-coloured Tommy. We have introduced him with great propriety next to the former lot, for he has been long accustomed to page it at his heels, and to follow his footsteps. We could recommend him to you in many characters, for many are his talents and little is his pride—he will stoop to do any thing for any man; but we chuse to confine ourselves at present to his own favourite character—a Convenient-man; in plain English, a pimp.—Stand forth, my lord duke and my lady duchess—ye earls, countesses, and secretaries of state—ye female romps of quality, and ye nobles of shallow heads and deep purses—stand forth, I say, and vouch for your faithful servant and slave.—Bear witness for him who has so often watched the motion of your eyes, studied the bent of your passions, administered to your pleasures, and fed the voracious stomach of your carnal cravings.—Who says for him?—Laugh at him who will, he's no blusher; he parted with all his blushes when he was a child, and left them in the cradle. Bid away, bid away, for this is no every day's bargain.—You might search all the hundreds of Middlesex before you could meet with his match.—None but himself can be his parallel.—He's deep in the science of fornication and intrigue, and knows all the laws of adultery, from tipping the wink up to delivering a billet-doux, or bribing a lady's maid. "Half a guinea for him." Good: half a guinea for a notorious pimp, once, twice—nobody more than half a guinea?—One would think he would fetch a better price, when adultery is so much in fashion. Will no rampant member of the Carlisle-house Coterie, with a soft, asking eye, and a roving heart, buy him off for the service of the winter campaign? Have we here no prim procuress, no Bond-street milliner, to hire him for the secret business of the back-room? Do but mark the lascivious roll of his eye, the suppleness of his joints, and the flexibility of his muscles. He is a complete Mercury—will cringe, fawn, and flatter like a Parisian, and fetch and carry like a spaniel. Nobody more than half a guinea for a new grown gentleman and lord? Oh fie! fie! knavery has lost its value. "A guinea for him!" Well spoke Charlotte! a true whore's price!—One guinea for Cream-coloured Tommy——once, twice——thrice. Charlotte Hayes has got him, to be chaplain to her nunnery.

The next Lot raised high the expectations of the audience. It was Mungo.

AUCTIONEER. Black as he is, very honest, for his heart shines through his face. Who'll put him in? This is not the first market he has been at, and he always sold well—and if he lives another session, it will not be the last. Buy him who will, they will not lose by him—for he's a man of all work, and has long been used to hard services. Poor soul! he was long the political foot-ball, the game of green statesmen, and the under-strapper of understrappers—the dupe of dunces, and the butt of weathercock wits—strappado'd by this one, and bastinado'd by that one—"Say this," said the master; and he said it.—"Do this," said the servant; and he did it.—Poor Mungo! some kind soul say six-pence for him.—He bustled long in the storm—they used him like the foul fiend, and drove him from hedge to stile, and from ditch to dank—through bogs, and fens, and fogs, and foul places—now kennel'd with parasites, and now pillowing upon thorns. Poor Mungo! put him in. They trod upon his heart, and well for him that it was callous, or he could never have supported it.—Poor black man! long he led the life of a dog, and it was a great mercy he had neither a spark of pride or of virtue, or he would have died under the load. Foul day or fair day, Mungo was the word—from morning to night, and from night to morning, it was nothing but Mungo! Mungo!—Was a Junto to be assembled, or an election to be carried? "Do this, Mungo." Was a lord to be bribed, or a commoner corrupted? "Do this, Mungo." Was the city to be counteracted, a job negociated, or a question smuggled in the house? "Where are you, Mungo?" An outcast from heaven, a knave of knaves, and a devil of devils, he was up, and down, and every where.—He is now here, and would he were off my hands. "A thirteener for him."—Well said, my jewels of Ireland—a thirteener for Mungo, once, twice—nobody more than a thirteener for a great black?—Once, twice—thrice. The Irish patriots have bought him to hang him in effigy.

Hand up the next Lot there, and don't ruffle his head-dress.

AUCTIONEER. Bless me! whom have we here?---He with the dull, unbashful features—the affected stagger—and the unruly roll of the eye?——O—'tis he himself—'tis the CUB—the true begotten son of peculation and cunning—the man of mode—and the beardless senator!—This lot, gellmen, does not at present absolutely belong to the ministry; but as we were ranging through the purlieus of St. Stephen's, we found him standing in the market, ready to join the best bidder: we have therefore huddled in the corrupted with the corrupting, for they have a natural right to each other's company. He looks drowsy, for he has been up at Arthur's all night. Turn round, sirrah, and stare them all in the face, as usual—simper as usual—and, as usual, shew your teeth. There's a figure for you, gellmen and ladies! Who bids for it? There's an ungodly composition of powder, vanity, pomatum and folly! Do but mark his languishing attitudes, the womanishness of his dress, and the arch of his eye-brow. O he's a puppy of the right race—of the original kennel—of the true Maccaroni breed—for ever mouthing, grinning, sneering—the dupe of beauty, and the bubble of wit. Where are ye, ye tender, weak, and puppy-loving fair-ones? If ye want a meet companion for a vapourish morning, or a rainy evening, here it is.—This is he, or she, or it, that can lisp lyes into a lady's ear, and hum minutes, and lounge on laps, and talk scandal, and ogle a countess, or bilk a whore, with any he, she, or it at Arthur's. This is he, that trim, tripping, smooth-faced, black hearted thing, that assumes more changes than the changeful Cynthia—now sighing with ladies, and now swearing with gamblers and lordlings—now deep in politics at St. Stephen's, and now deeper in Arthur's.—Do, good people, put him in. O he's a fellow of profound plans and keen execution. He once carried a bill into the senate for the repeal of the marriage-act, and well was the work begun—Keen, vigilant, and active, he sweated, he beseeched, he harangued, and he argued—all was ripe for the fiat; but one unlucky morning ruined all—for this keen, vigilant, and active young man, had sat three hours and a half under the fingers of his hair-dresser, and was absent: the bill was lost, and the North road is still the only cure for love.——Bless me! will nobody bid for him? What! for this man of glitter, of powder and silk?——Do but smell him gellmen—he breathes odours like a hyacinth. There is a rank smell runs through all the family of the Reynards, but he has quite overpowered it with perfumery.——Oh! somebody bid for him—He'd be a good bargain to a minister or for a taylor, for he can lead a debate or a fashion with equal success.——What! nobody? Not even a hair-dresser, to hang his head in the front window?——'Pshaw! throw him aside: for all people seem to be of opinion, That a Maccaroni is worth nothing.

The sixth Lot was now called for, and it was the the last; though last, not least---for it was the head of a Scotchman.

AUCTIONEER. Stand up, Sir Gibby. If any faith, gellmen, is to be placed in fashion, this head will fetch me some money—for Scotchmen have been long the reigning mode: like Scotch stones, our streets are quite covered with them, and they have crept into all our lanes, alleys, and corners. Nor is this all: they preside in our cabinets, and lead Kings as they list; they reign alone in the East-Indies, and the West-Indies are in their own possession: They are great in power, but among the greatest of all is Sir Gibby. Deep, slow, and easy, you must take him as you find him, for there is no judging a Scotchman by appearances; his face will often deceive you; and as to his heart, there is no seeing through it. Come, who says for him? Though his features are hard, and his cheeks are lank, you must not be frighten'd—he comes from the country where flour never blossom'd, and where sun never shines: besides, 'tis the custom of his country—a lean face, but rich brains.—Come, bid away, gellmen. He looks like a Scotch fir—cold, comfortless, and barren—but your Scotch firs always thrive well upon English ground, and well has he thriven: from empty pastries and dirty parlours, where the bleak north wind blows his eternal pipe loud and long, he has housed him in a kinder country, and in a softer clime—he feeds upon the fat things of our land, and rolls him in rivers of milk and honey—his head is cloathed in purple, and his footsteps are paved with gold. What is become of the many friends whom he has befriended—the long list of Scotch kinsmen, clans, and kinsmen, whom he beckoned from Egypt into Canaan—who slept from the dunghill into the senate—and who swarm in posts, and groan under pensions? Have they no bowels for an old friend? Have they not one sympathetic shilling to save a countryman from shame?—"Three bawbees for him."—"Aught-pence for Sir Gibby."—"Ae pund Scots for my good friend Sir Gibby."—Thank ye, thank ye, gentlemen—once, twice, thrice, he's your own.—These Scotsmen are famous for nationality: they stick to each other like burs.

SAMUEL GIFFORD,

Lately arrived from LONDON,

Acquaints the Ladies and Gentlemen, and the Public in general,

THAT he has taken a Store in Broad ſtreet, three Doors from Gadſden's Alley, formerly occupied by Mr. TIMOTHY, which he has opened as a

CIRCULATING LIBRARY,

On the ſame Terms as in LONDON, viz.

I. Every yearly Subſcriber to pay One Pound Sterling.

II. Half Year Ditto, Twelve Shillings.

III. The Money to be paid at the Time of ſubſcribing.

IV. Each Subſcriber to pay Three-Pence for a Catalogue.

V. The Subſcribers are to give in their Names and Places of Abode, and if required the Value of the Book they take away, the Prices of which are marked in the Catalogues.

VI. Each Subſcriber will be allowed to take out one Volume at a Time, and the Liberty of changing Once a Day, and not oftener.

VII. The Subſcribers, to prevent being diſappointed in the Books they want, are to ſend a Liſt of Eight or Ten different Numbers taken from the printed Catalogue.

VIII. No Subſcriber is to keep any new Book longer than four Days, nor any Volume beyond a Month, on their being obliged to keep and pay for the ſame.

IX. That ſo long as Subſcribers, through any Cauſe whatſoever, keep a Volume in their Hands belonging to the Library, beyond the Time agreed and paid for, they ſhall be deemed Subſcribers whether they read or not, and ſhall pay accordingly.

X. If any Book is written in, or Leaf (whether blank or printed) is torn or damaged, whilſt in the Cuſtody of a Subſcriber, that Book (or the whole Set, if it belongs to one) ſhall be paid for at the Price fixed in the Catalogue.

Attendance will be given at the Library from Ten to Twelve in the Forenoon, and from Two to Five in the Afternoon.

N. B. Should the above Plan meet with ſufficient Encouragement, the Proprietor will ſpare neither Pains or Expence to furniſh the Public with a choice Collection of Books by the moſt approved Authors, and will take Care to be regularly ſupplied with every new Book publiſhed, that he imagines worthy of his Encouragers Peruſal.
